REBELS CALL ON GOV'T TO QUIT OFFICE

Say Federals Must Accept Responsibility for Further Bloodshed in Brazil

AUTHORITIES REFUSE TO DIVIDE COUNTRY

Rival Camps Claim Capture of Itarare, Important Railway Point of Sao Paulo

RIO DE JANEIRO, Oct. 17.—Brazilian insurgent leaders, claiming the capture in battle of Itarare, important railway point of Sao Paulo State, have called upon the Federal Government at the capital here to resign or to accept the responsibility for further bloodshed in the civil war.

The Federal authorities, issuing a counter-claim of victory at Itarare and asserting the rebels have lost heavily, said they would refuse any proposal for dividing the country and had not entered into peace negotiations with the rebels.

FEDERALS DISORGANIZED
General Miguel Costa, rebel commander on the Sao Paulo front, asserted the Federal troops were disorganized, and he predicted the early fall of Sao Paulo, commercial metropolis of Brazil.

President Washington Luis, in an interview, said Brazil was passing through anxious moments, but he was convinced the insurgents would be defeated.

Both sides were agreed the battle at Itarare had been on a large scale.

GOV'T CLAIMS ADVANCES
The rebels also reported a rapid drive southward through the small state of Sergipe, north of Bahia, and claimed the surrender of two Federal regiments in Minas Geraes. The Federal, on the other hand, reported an advance "on all fronts" in Minas Geraes.

The United States cruiser Pensacola has been ordered to the ports of Para, Pernambuco and Bahia as a precaution for protection of American citizens and their property.

CONFERENCE COMMITTEES END SURVEYS

Imperial Parley Marks Time While Britain Prepares Answer to Bennett

BURST OF ACTIVITY EXPECTED SHORTLY

LONDON, Oct. 17.—With the meeting of the heads of delegations suspended, the coming week, it is expected, will see a burst of activity in the committee of the Imperial Conference, and before the close of the week, it is anticipated, the reply to Hon. R. B. Bennett, Prime Minister of Canada, will have been made.

The heads of delegations today completed their preliminary survey of all questions and sent to the economic committee, under the chairmanship of Rt. Hon. William Graham, President of the Board of Trade, the reports of the Empire Marketing Board, the Imperial Shipping Committee and the Imperial economic committee.

DISARMING APPROVED
The conference committee on arbitration and disarmament, under the chairmanship of Hon. Maurice Dwyer, Canadian Solicitor-General, today reached an understanding to press forward a general measure of disarmament with all possible expedition. The British draft convention of disarmament, which has already been submitted to the League of Nations preparatory disarmament commission, was the subject of discussion.

"We approved the general principles without going into details," said a British member of the committee.

And while the conference at large seems to be marking time while the British formulate their reply to Mr. Bennett's trade proposals, it is believed that the Dominions will, in any case, seek to reach some agreement.

SAYS TEACHERS PLAY GREATEST PART IN EDUCATION SYSTEM

KELOWNA, Oct. 17.—Addressing the Okanagan Valley Teachers' convention here, Hon. Joshua Hinchliffe, Minister of Education, said that while the work of the Board of Education and other boards was valuable, it was the teacher who played the greatest part in the educational system. It was the teacher who came in direct contact with the child. The part of the boards was mechanical, but the part of the teacher was inspirational in the life of the child.

Addresses were given also by Dr. W. J. Knox, Ira Dilworth, of Victoria, and W. H. Weston.

Versailles Treaty Abrogation or War Is Fascist Policy

Gregor Strasser, German Party Spokesman, Outlines to Reichstag Key Points of Programme—Says Independence of Country Must Be Restored—Urges Universal Military Training.

Attitude Towards Anti-Semitism Stated

BERLIN, Oct. 17.—Abrogation of the Treaty of Versailles and, if necessary to Germany's salvation, war, were proclaimed by Gregor Strasser, Fascist party spokesman, before the Reichstag today to be key points of German Fascist policy.

His Strasser's declarations were made after his fellow partisans had howled down other speakers, who were forced to bellow their arguments for and against the Government's programme of economic reform which, expounded yesterday by Chancellor Brüning, was up today for debate.

HOURS OF BEDLAM
His pronouncement followed hours of bedlam, during which it was necessary for Government and other speakers to bellow their words, few of which reached their hearers. Socialists, angered, threatened to throw the Fascists out of the Plenary Hall, and were dared to come ahead by the threatened deputies.

Gregor Strasser, Fascist spokesman, declared that the Fascists were not seeking to overthrow their nation in war, but "won't shrink from it if it should become the last means of restoring German independence and social freedom."

It would be a crime, Strasser said, first to set Germany's house in order and then attempt to obtain revision of the Young Plan.

"WORLD WILL WHISTLE"
"Once our finances are adjusted, the world will whistle at revision," he declared.

The Fascist also said his party wanted universal military training and compulsory work by every citizen. Regarding anti-Semitism, he added: "We do not want persecution of the Jews, but we do demand elimination of Jews from German life. We want leadership without Jewish spirit, without Jewish go-betweens and without Jewish press influence."

DEATH OF HOSPITAL PATIENT REPORTED
SANTIAGO, Chile, Oct. 17.—A violent earthquake, which apparently shook the entire Andean slope of Chile this morning, caused at least one death and a score of injuries.

Apparently the quake caused widespread damage to buildings and it was believed the casualty list might grow when all communities were heard from.

The one death reported was that of a woman, a hospital patient, who left her bed in panic and died as she attempted to flee outdoors with others. Another woman at the same place suffered a broken leg. Six other persons were slightly injured.

MUCH MATERIAL DAMAGE
Much material damage was wrought in the town of Linares, hardly a house escaping some injury. The postoffice was nearly destroyed, large stores were damaged, a main street was closed by the falling of a masonry wall and several houses were obliterated.

In Santiago the frightened inhabitants fled to the parks as they felt the shock.

Some injuries were reported at Valparaiso.

The quake was a violent shock, accompanied by deep rumblings. The seismographic observatory at El Salto said the principal movement lasted forty seconds, with the tremor attaining an acceleration of 260 millimeters a second.

At La Ligua a strong shock brought down several stucco buildings. At San Felipe the quake was felt distinctly, although the damage was slight and no casualties were known. At La Ligua several old houses were destroyed and several newer ones were somewhat damaged. Here several persons were injured.

The quake was violent and prolonged and accompanied by deep-sounding subterranean noises.

No action will be taken by the authorities, Mr. Gibson said, until the return of H. C. Rickaby, geologist of the Department of Mines, who was rushed to the scene by airplane when word of the strike reached here.

If indications of gold which have caused the stampede are borne out, it is considered likely the regulations closing the territory will be brushed aside.

ONTARIO GOLD RUSH IS TO CLOSED AREA

TORONTO, Oct. 17.—Announcement has been made by Thomas Gibson, deputy minister of Ontario Mines, that what is described as the first big gold rush since Red Lake, which is luring hundreds of prospectors to Hamiltown Township, in the Fort Matchewan area, is on Government property where mining of any description is prohibited.

No action will be taken by the authorities, Mr. Gibson said, until the return of H. C. Rickaby, geologist of the Department of Mines, who was rushed to the scene by airplane when word of the strike reached here.

If indications of gold which have caused the stampede are borne out, it is considered likely the regulations closing the territory will be brushed aside.

Prairie Blizzard Claims Six Lives; Others Endangered

Five Regina Men Die of Exhaustion in Automobile—Motorist Killed When Car Turns Over in Ditch Near Calgary

WINNIPEG, Oct. 17.—Leaving a death-marked trail across the Prairies, a three-day blizzard howled away tonight into the barrens of the Hudson Bay country. The fury of the early October storm claimed six lives—and made a futile snatch at a dozen others—as it piled snow high throughout the West under the force of a screaming gale.

Five Regina men were found in a death-sleep with two companions in a snow-bound sedan stalled in the twenty-foot drifts on the outskirts of the South Saskatchewan city. Their death, at first ascribed to carbon-monoxide poisoning during their all-night stay in the car, was later unofficially placed as due to sheer exhaustion. Another man died when his car turned over and plunged through a drift near Calgary.

G. R. Downwell, Leslie Hallsworth, Walter "Scotty" Tyndall, Thomas McHoskins and Victor Sommerfeld, found in the parked car, Gabriel Delaney, Edmonton, killed when his car toppled over into a ditch on a South Alberta highway last night.

WOMAN FOUND SAFE
A twenty-four-hour search through the blizzard-swept Moose Jaw vicinity ended in success when an aged lady was found safe. Mrs. W. L. Miles, aged seventy, was unhurt, by exposure and a half a day roaming through the storm in outer Moose Jaw.

The all-night hunt by police and citizens in Regina's East Side for eleven-year-old Dora Gorenko ended this afternoon when the little girl walked alone into her home. She had almost given up hope of finding her way home.

Gov't Asked to Return Clover Point to City

Possibility of the return of the Clover Point rifle range land by the Dominion Government to the city was intimated by Hon. Dr. D. M. Sutherland, Minister of National Defence, prior to his departure to the Mainland yesterday. In reply to a delegation which waited on him at the Empress Hotel, he said he would give the matter very favorable consideration on his return to Ottawa.

The delegation was introduced to the minister by B. B. Plunkett, M.P., and consisted of Hon. Dr. S. F. Toimie, Senators G. H. Barnard and R. F. Green and Mayor Herbert Anselm. Mr. Plunkett strongly advocated the handing of the land to the municipality, as it is no longer used for Federal purposes by the Department of National Defence, pointing out that it lends itself admirably to any scheme which may be devised for foreshore beautification and could be made a great asset for municipal purposes.

The delegation was fully satisfied with the attitude of Dr. Sutherland.

B.C. Electric Announces Present Rates of Pay to Be Continued

NEW AGREEMENT MADE COVERS THREE YEARS

Ratification of an agreement which guaranteed the continuation of the prevailing rate of wages to employees of the British Columbia Electric Railway Co., for further period of three years, is announced from the head office of the company. The new agreement is effective as from September 30, 1930.

Negotiations have been carried on over a period of several weeks between representatives of the company and representatives of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, with the result that there will not be any reduction in the pay envelopes of employees for the coming three years.

The announcement is an important one for Victoria, as it affects upwards of 150 employees of the company, most of them married men with families. Coming at a time when any employees of labor throughout the country find themselves obliged to reduce their pay-roll costs through a reduction in staffs and to other ways, the announcement is a "no change" policy.

French Premier Will Wage Battle With Opposition on Foreign Programme

FALL PARLIAMENTARY SESSION POSTPONED

PARIS, Oct. 17.—Premier Andre Tardieu today postponed the opening of the Fall Parliamentary session from October 26 to November 4. His announcement was interpreted as meaning he intends to force a political showdown with his opponents on foreign policy after the deputies have reconvened.

Setting out his present reports about Foreign Minister Briand's health, he told newspapermen that "by November 4, M. Briand's health will be sufficiently restored to permit him to meet an interpellation by Deputy Franklin-Bouillon upon the Government's foreign policy."

Out of these interpellations, demanding an explicit statement of Government policy on various questions, the Premier has elected to wage his battle with the opposition on the question of foreign policy.

M. Franklin-Bouillon's interpellation outspokenly upbraids M. Briand for his policy of conciliation toward Germany and brings up the problem of the Fascist success in the German elections.

Ratification of an agreement which guarantees the continuation of the prevailing rate of wages to employees of the British Columbia Electric Railway Co., for further period of three years, is announced from the head office of the company. The new agreement is effective as from September 30, 1930.

Negotiations have been carried on over a period of several weeks between representatives of the company and representatives of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, with the result that there will not be any reduction in the pay envelopes of employees for the coming three years.

The announcement is an important one for Victoria, as it affects upwards of 180 employees of the company, most of them married men with families. Coming at a time when many employers of labor throughout the country find themselves obliged to reduce their payroll costs through a reduction in staffs and in other ways, the announcement is a "no change" policy.

MOUNT DOUGLAS PARK QUESTION UNDER INQUIRY

Investigation Ordered in Administration of Lands in Trust

MUNICIPAL OFFICERS INTERVIEW PREMIER

To determine the status of Mount Douglas Park once and for all, and settle questions which have led to innumerable conflicts of interest in the administration of the area, his department proposed to institute an inquiry into the whole question, Hon. R. H. Pooley, K.C., Attorney-General, stated yesterday.

This action was taken following the visit of a delegation of Victoria and Saanich municipal officers, who were granted audience with Premier Tolmie and Mr. Pooley. F. M. Preston, city engineer; R. R. P. Sewell, Saanich municipal assessor, and other Saanich officers comprised the delegation. The object of the tree cutting at the site recently was explained by municipal officials as part of a plan to divert the road leading through the area to permit of more ground being available to the public between the road and the beach, and for other reasons. Now that the trees are cut the damage has been done, it was pointed out.

Vigorous protest against the removal of gravel and the creation of unsightly pits within the park was also laid with the department recently by independent sources. A stoppage of work on the road cutting project was ordered at once, and now the whole matter is to be investigated.

Unemployment Relief To Start in Oak Bay

Surface drains, new sidewalks and the clearing of a new two-acre playground forms the programme for unemployed relief work in Oak Bay. The sum spent upon the work will be $9,000, of which $4,500 will be supplied by the municipality, while the Federal and Provincial Governments each make a grant of $2,250. It has been stated that the council will concentrate upon labor work and the first to receive employment will be the genuine needy cases, of which there are about thirty in Oak Bay.

CHIEF JUSTICE MIGHT TENDER RESIGNATION

Lord Hewart Absent From Sessions of English Law Court Owing to Illness

CHIEF JUSTICE HEWART

LONDON, Oct. 17.—The law courts have reasssembled, but Lord Hewart, Chief Justice of England, is a notable absentee. He is not seriously indisposed at present, but there would be no surprise if he announced his retirement on account of ill-health, which would occasion great regret.

If Lord Hewart retired, Sir William Jowitt, Attorney-General, would be in the ordinary course be the logical successor. But it is doubtful whether he would avail himself of the opportunity of immediately stepping into so exalted an office.

Lord Hewart, born Rordon Hewart, became the first baron of that title in 1922, and he is sixty years of age.

Japan expects to advance nearly $35,000,000 for farm relief.

ADDING MORE MEN TO CIVIC LABOR CORPS

Total of 106 Now on Payroll—Delegation Asks for Soup Kitchens

The payroll of the city of Victoria was increased yesterday with the addition of fifty-four men who were placed on unemployment relief work, making a total of 106 men now employed under the Federal aid plan. All the men were taken from the register of the Victoria office of the Employment Service of Canada, which has been ably assisting the corporation in the placing of deserving cases. The entire 106 men on the roll yesterday are married men, the majority with families. It is stated in civic circles that it is not the intention of the officials to entirely overlook the plight of the single men; the general feeling is that men with families are entitled to first consideration. The unemployment committee of the City Council intends going into their case at an early date.

A meeting of unemployed was held yesterday morning on Langley Street and after the meeting a delegation visited Mayor Anson at the City Hall with the request that a soup kitchen be established for the single unemployed, or that the corporation provide groceries and mass bachelor quarters where men could sleep and prepare their own food. The Mayor declined to give any decision, but reiterated his stand that married men with families would receive first chance on any work undertaken by the city.

It is estimated that over 2,000 men are out of work in the four municipalities, Victoria having upwards of 1,500. It is stated that not all of the men unemployed are requiring immediate assistance.

Officials of the employment service say that men so far given employment are bona fide residents of the city of Victoria and the majority of them have been residents for more than six months.

CANADIAN DENTISTS IN ANNUAL SESSION

MONTREAL, Oct. 17.—Dr. A. W. Faulkner, of Halifax, today took office as president of the Canadian Dental Association, the annual convention of which was concluded here. Dr. Philippe Hamel, of Quebec, will be the president for 1932. Dr. Faulkner succeeded Dr. M. H. Garvin, of Winnipeg. Dr. J. Stanley Bagnall, of Halifax, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Plans were discussed for the participation of the Canadian association in the International Dental Congress, to be held at Paris next year. Dr. A. E. Webster, Toronto, and Dr. Ernest Charron, Montreal, were appointed delegates to represent the Canadian body.

Committees were appointed to begin arrangements for the joint convention of the British, Canadian and Ontario Dental Associations at Toronto in 1932.

New Version of Old Testament to Be Issued Soon

TORONTO, Oct. 17.—Announcement was made here last night by Dr. S. A. B. Mercer, local professor, that a new version of the Old Testament will soon be issued, following his rewriting of the Book of Ecclesiastes. Last Summer he discovered a hitherto unpublished version 200 years older than any manuscript known to exist, he said. According to Dr. Mercer, his discovery shatters the claim which has stood for thirty years that European libraries contained the oldest manuscript of the book known to exist.

PROTECTION FOR MOUTH AND THROAT

Exposure to damp weather, excessive use of voice, or smoking are frequently the source of irritated, sore throats. Unless promptly cared for serious complications often follow. A gargle of one part Absorbine, Jr., to nine parts water will bring quick relief to the inflamed tissues. And if there is congestion with the infection, as usually happens, break it up once by rubbing the outside of the throat with a few drops of full-strength Absorbine, Jr.

To sweeten the breath and soothe the mouth in a clean, wholesome way at all times, the daily use of Absorbine, Jr., diluted as a mouth-wash, is just a few drops in a glass of water, morning and night. Get your drugstore—$1.25.

NEW PENAL CODE GOES INTO EFFECT IN JULY

Provides for Death Penalty in Italy for High Political Crimes and Murder

By WILLIAM H. STONEHAWK (Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily News Foreign Service.)

ROME, Oct. 17.—The new penal code, which establishes the death penalty for high political crimes and murder, abolishes the jury and increases the severity of the punishment for many other offences, will become effective in July, 1931, it has been decided by the Italian Cabinet.

Comparing in importance with this decision were others establishing a national organization for Italian Jewry, which brings all Jewish organizations under direct state control for the first time, and creating a commission to study the problem of repatriating Italians resident abroad in case of mobilization. Inasmuch as most of Italy's reserves resident abroad have settled as citizens of other countries, the commission will have a ticklish and difficult job.

Simultaneously the Council of Ministers is preparing the law for the reorganization of the Four Chief Parties Are Contesting 165 Seats in Parliament of Australia

Campaign Is Now in Full Swing—Vote on November 9

By JOHN GUNTHER
(Copyright, 1930, by The Chicago Daily
News Foreign Service)

VIENNA, Oct. 17.—The Austrian election campaign begins in earnest today, the last day for entering official lists of candidates.

The four chief groups from which Austria's puzzled citizens have to choose give them a range from the Fascist Heimwehr, some of whose leaders have openly threatened violence, on one side, to Marxian Socialists, who run the city of Vienna, on the other. Both Fascists and Socialists have their own bitterly antagonistic private armies. Approximately 3,600,000 Austrians voted in the last elections, filling 165 seats in Parliament.

FOUR CHIEF PARTIES

The four chief parties are as follows:

1. Social Democrats. This party, which controls the municipal government of Vienna, is founded on the trade unions, has a strictly Marxist programme, and is responsible for the Socialist housing reforms in Vienna. Its leader is Karl Seitz, Mayor of Vienna. It has seventy-one seats in the last Chamber.

2. The Centre Block, constructed during the last few weeks by former Chancellor Johann Schober. This group represents chiefly the coalition of the Pan-German party, which had twelve seats in the last Chamber, and the Agrarian party, which had nine. Also in this coalition are six or seven minor parties of the centre which had no seats before.

MAY HOLD BALANCE

Herr Schober's strength is the virtually unanimous support from bourgeois moderates who do not want to go either Fascist or Socialist, and from economic business men and bankers who see in Herr Schober Austria's best chance to escape the present muddle. Most of the nonparty people of the middle class are voting for Herr Schober at this election. It is possible that he may sell enough seats to hold the balance of power between the evenly-divided Social Democrats and the Right groups.

3. Christian Socialist Party. This party is not "Socialist" at all, but clerical and reactionary. The leader is Mr. Ignaz Seipel, who is seconded by the present Premier, Karl Vaugin. At present the Clericals have seventy-three seats, two more than the Social Democrats. The party stands for strong clerical conservatism.

IS NEW FACTION

4. The Heimwehr. The Heimwehr has never run as a party before, and therefore had no seats in the last Chamber. It is a military organization seeking to defend Austria from the inroads of the Reds. Its organizer is the notorious Major Walde-mara Pabst, who was expelled from Austria for high treason. Its leader is the fiery young Prince Ernst Rudiger Starhemberg, the present Minister of the Interior.

The Heimwehr was included in the present Clerical Government because Mr. Seipel and Herr Vaugin wanted to get their votes. But through a curious intrigue the Heimwehr, flushed with its first Government representation, decided to run as an independent party. This seems to mean that the Heimwehr will get some seats at the expense of the Clericals who enabled them to run. In two of Austria's seven districts, however, Vienna and Lower Austria, the Heimwehr and the Clericals are presenting joint lists.

THREE OTHER PARTIES

Finally, there are three parties who do not line up with any of the four great groups and who are fighting independently but with little chance of getting any seats. They are: The National Socialists, the Fascists proper, the rump of Adolf Hitler's German party; the Democratic Central party, which has refused to join Herr Schober's coalition because of the alleged anti-Semitism of the Pan-Germans; and the Communists, who are unimportant in Austria.

The issue, in a word, is a three-cornered struggle between the powerful Left, the newly-organized Centre, and the Right, which apparently is split by the Heimwehr into two sections.

The Centre, Herr Schober's party, strongly favors Anschluss, or union with Germany.

The polling takes place Sunday, November 9.

MISS L. M. COVERDALE PASSES AT JUBILEE

Her many friends will be grieved to hear of the death at the Jubilee Hospital on Thursday of Miss Lucy Margaret Coverdale, who has been a resident of Victoria for the past ten years.

She leaves to mourn her loss three brothers, Rev. Thomas A. Coverdale, of Southampton, England; Rev. Rueben Coverdale, of Hoath, England; and Robert Coverdale, of Sydney, Australia, and four sisters, Annie, late of the Anglican Mission, India; Mary and Evelyn, of London, England, and Emily, of Upton-on-Severn, England.

A service will be held at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Parlors on Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The remains will later be forwarded for cremation. It is especially requested that no flowers be sent.

RALSTON JOINS LAW FIRM IN MONTREAL

MONTREAL, Oct. 17.—Announcement was made here today that Hon. J. L. Ralston, former Minister of National Defence, and for twenty-seven years a leading member of the Nova Scotia bar, will move to Montreal to become a member of the law firm of Mitchell, Kearney and Duquet. This firm, which was once headed by Senator F. K. Laflamme, K.C., will be known as Mitchell, Ralston, Kearney and Duquet. Hon. Walter Mitchell, former Provincial Treasurer of Quebec, is the head of the firm.

"I talked him out of it..."

"If I had only known this would happen! So suddenly! So unexpectedly! And when everything looked so promising!

"And to think that time after time he wanted to increase his life insurance and I talked him out of it. How hard I worked against myself and against my own interests. I wanted a bigger house. I wanted luxuries! I wanted everything except the protection he was urging me to accept.

"I got my own way, of course. The Life Insurance was not taken. I robbed the children of their education, of my care, perhaps of their future success in life. I robbed myself of the children's companionship. For now I must leave them to earn the money needed to keep our little family together -- the money that Life Insurance would have given me if he had had his way --

"-- and I talked him out of it."

It has been truly said that, "If every wife knew what every widow knows, every man would carry adequate Life Insurance."

And too often it is the children who must pay the penalty of the wife's prejudice.

CITIES FILING UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF PLANS

Prepare Separate Agreements Between Governments and Cities

ONLY NEEDED WORKS ARE TO BE APPROVED

Filing of municipal work programmes in line with the federal unemployment scheme, is proceeding at the Department of Public Works. Centres from all parts of the province are laying their plans before the Government, and asking approval of specified projects for the creation of winter work in cases where it is needed.

Municipal officials from Nanaimo were in the city yesterday on this mission, including Alderman Green and City Clerk Backwood. Sewer construction and roadwork, involving a high percentage of labor, is believed to be included in the Nanaimo plans.

Through Mayor Ansonby, Victoria produced its proposals this week, and will file completed plans in the course of the next few days. Grand Forks, Vernon, Surrey, and many interior centres have been heard from, and other municipalities requiring assistance under the scheme are taking necessary action to put their applications in shape.

Text of the provincial-municipal agreement, which will be signed in the case of each municipality coming in under the scheme, has been drafted, and printed copies of the form are now available at the Department of Public Works.

This agreement sets out that moneys advanced to the municipality in each case must be for the relief of "an extraordinary condition of poverty and destitution" existing. The province agrees to pay 60 per cent of the cost of such work, putting up on their own and taking a quarter of the cost of the work from the federal grant. The other half of the cost is to be found by the municipality.

Proof that a serious unemployment condition exists is a prerequisite that will be insisted on in each case. It is explained. The agreement provides for the municipality's liability for federal-provincial payments, and carries the usual clause as to fair wages and standard hours of work.

PERIOD TO BE EXTENDED
The municipality agrees to submit a memorandum for the approval of the province of the works and undertakings proposed to be carried on, with a detailed estimate of cost. Work authorized under the scheme must be carried on continuously, weather permitting, and completed in any event not later than June 1, 1931.

Certified payroll statements and accounts are to be made by the municipality in due course, over the signature of the municipal engineer. Other information required by the province must be furnished on request.

The agreement expressly precludes discrimination in employment against any person for political affiliations, and states that in so far as possible work shall go to residents of the municipality.

A clause in the agreement dealing with the type of work that is likely to be approved has already been misunderstood in certain quarters. The clause in question reads as follows:

"Wherever used in this agreement, the cost of approved public works and undertakings shall be taken to include the labor costs of such work, but not including, except with the approval of the province, the cost of any plant or equipment used in connection with such public works and undertakings, nor the cost of materials forming an integral part of the completed work."

NO EXPLOITATION
This clause, it is explained by the Department of Public Works, was inserted to exclude exploitation of the federal relief funds for purposes other than the amelioration of actual and existing distress through unemployment. The words "labor only" will be interpreted in a broad sense, and will not exclude payment for costs of tools necessary for the execution of approved works.

On the other hand the clause gives discretionary powers to the province in determining what is a fit and proper work to be proceeded with, through the aid of funds which, in every event, will come out of the public purse. Dominion officials also have a say in the approval of work to be done, and the agreement makes provision for this.

The whole principle of the federal scheme has been approved generally by British Columbia municipalities, and the taking of measures to insure that real relief will be given.

Conditions Good in West Says Visitor

Director in charge of sales and advertising of J. S. Fry & Sons (Canada) Limited, who was a visitor in the city yesterday, Mr. Greenway was recently made director in charge of sales and advertising of Cadbury's Limited, Montreal, the Canadian branch of the great firm of Cadbury Brothers, Limited, of Bournville, England.

Mr. Greenway is highly delighted with business conditions in British Columbia and is of the opinion conditions will show a gradual improvement, and that by the early part of 1931 Canada, as a whole, should be well on the way to a rapid recovery. Mr. Greenway left last night en route East.

where it is needed, has been recognized as essential to the proper carrying out of the plan.

PROVINCE TO DO WORK
Exclusive of municipal programmes, the province has an extensive list of proposals on its own behalf for unorganized territory, and which it will apply in the administration of the fund in civic undertakings.

The aid test that all programmes of work must respond to includes the primary question as to whether the work proposed to be done will relieve existing distress without wasting public funds. Once this question is satisfactorily answered, a broad interpretation is to be placed on all proposals submitted to the Government by the municipal centres of the province, it is explained.

RAINFALL IS ABOVE AVERAGE FOR MONTH

Total Precipitation for October 2.85 inches, or .82 More Than Usual—Will Continue

Although little more than half of the month of October has passed, the precipitation is already above the average for the month, according to official figures released last night by F. Napier Denison, director of the meteorological service. Other information required by the province must be furnished on request.

A total of 2.85 inches of rain has fallen in Victoria, which is .82 of an inch above average. Of this amount of precipitation 2.11 inches fell between 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon and 8 o'clock last night.

The thermometer remained low over the northern parts of the province yesterday, dropping to 22 degrees at Prince George. At Prince Rupert the mercury read 36 degrees at 10 o'clock last night.

Cold weather with heavy snowfalls are being met with in the Prairie provinces, with as much as twenty inches at Prince Albert. Coupled with the snowfall was a heavy gale. The cold, according to Mr. Denison, is extending southward from the northern part of Texas this morning. This is considered very unusual for the time of the year.

While the whole of British Columbia, and particularly the northern part of the province, is wrapped in cold weather, temperatures are high in California. The mercury reached 80 at San Francisco, while at Los Angeles it was two degrees lower. At Red Bluff, in the Sacramento Valley, the mercury climbed to 80 yesterday.

Storms hovering over the Coast are responsible for the rain, which has fallen here almost continuously since 3:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. More rain is expected today.

CAMPAIGN MAKES EXCELLENT START

Over $1,000 Already Received by Armistice Period-Red Cross Committee in $20,000 Drive

With cheques for $500 from the Army and Navy Veterans, $250 from the B.C. Cement Company, and an anonymous subscription of $500, the Armistice Period-Red Cross campaign for $20,000 has made a big stride towards its objective. Announcement of these generous gifts was made by Mr. Fred Landsberg at a meeting of the campaign committee held in the Red Cross office, 317 Pemberton Building, yesterday.

Headquarters for the drive will be established in a central store at an early date and canvassing will commence without delay. The untold gifts which put the fund above the first $1,000 mark encourage the committee to believe that the joint appeal will receive a liberal response.

Under the Clock At the City Hall

Unless some particularly energetic member of the council has sufficient courage to attempt to introduce a measure and to face the fifty-fifty split, it would appear the proposals to consider the Dardanelles widening before the December election would go by the boards. The bill has already received two very effective setbacks at the hands of the aldermanic board, and just now seems to be dead in the water in civic circles. If it is revived at all, it will have to be a very different bill from that which was ousted on the two occasions referred to. Alderman Dewar has yet to introduce a motion to have the solicitor prepare a dual by-law covering appropriation and local improvement.

City Solicitor H. S. Pringle is becoming worried over the possibility of a parade of last-minute by-laws for submission to the electorate at the approaching civic elections. One in particular is the by-law to provide money for the construction of a manufacturing building at Wilfrid's fair grounds. Announcement of the plan was made by Mayor Ansonby at the opening of the Fall session and he also announced that the Government would go dollar for dollar in the cost. It has been suggested that the by-law include a sufficient amount to cover the cost of an ice arena, which would ensure a certain amount of revenue several months of the year.

Municipal elections are in the offing, but so far there are few issues on which candidates might base their campaigns. Under the two-year term of election to the council five aldermen will be retired at the close of November. Those of the present council who will stand again are Aldermen W. H. Cullin, H. O. Litchfield, W. T. Strath and E. S. Woodward. The "Ins" for another year are R. A. C. Dewar, J. L. Mara, Alex. Peden, Robert Smith and John A. Worthington. Early announcements may be expected from the "Outs" as to their intentions for 1931.

The barbers and hair-dressers amended by-law will come before the council on Monday night. This by-law aims to protect the trade in Victoria and was prepared at the request of the persons in that line of business and approved by the city solicitor. For its sake, it has got more beauty spots to visit than we can possibly cover right away, and there are more and better transportation facilities here than in any other place we've been around in before, and such comfortable means of getting about we have never experienced hitherto.

Just Roamin' Around

BY TWO ROVERS
"That's just the trouble, Rover," said I to my chum and companion. "Here we are in a small town, compared to those we have seen in old Europe—London, Paris and Berlin. For its size, it has got more beauty spots to visit than we can possibly cover right away, and there are more and better transportation facilities here than in any other place we've been around in before, and such comfortable means of getting about we have never experienced hitherto."

Now, Rover is a wise old dog, and he understood every word that I said, that is, all but the last one. So, not to change the subject, but rather to clinch the argument, I said, "Let's go, Rover, over to the B.C. Electric Railway Company's offices down on Langley Street; and to the Vancouver Island Coach Lines, Limited, on Broughton Street, and to all the other transportation offices in town, and we will fill our pockets (Rover resented this, as he had no pockets), with circulars and timetables. (This last was pronounced one way by Rover and the other way by me). We will study up and see if there is to be any more beauty spots to visit, or not easily accessible by coach or car or road or rail, in case we ever want to disappear and get away quite by ourselves." Well, we couldn't find one. And I'll bet (as if a rover ever had a cent to bet or in, there is not a capital in Europe, or in any other place) that Rover, over to the B.C. Electric Railway Company's offices down on Langley Street; and to the Vancouver Island Coach Lines, Limited, on Broughton Street, and to all the other transportation offices in town, and we will fill our pockets (Rover resented this, as he had no pockets), with circulars and timetables. Columbia W.A. Hears Reports Of Its Workers

An unexpected, but welcome visitor at the meeting of Columbia W.A. Diocesan Board, held yesterday, was Dr. Hiltz, head of the General Board of Religious Education, who spoke at the afternoon session, and paid a tribute of high praise to the work accomplished by the Dominion Board of the Women's Auxiliary. The diocesan president, Mrs. Dickson, outlined in a clear and comprehensive report the business carried out by the Dominion Board at the annual meeting held at Ottawa during September, at which many important decisions were made and new policies outlined.

Deaconess Simcox gave most interesting accounts of the conferences which she had attended as the delegate from Columbia.

The meeting was preceded by corporate communion service held in St. Matthias' Church, at which the celebrant was Rev. A. G. E. Munson, assisted by Rev. A. M. Acheson Lytle, the business session opening at 11:15 o'clock in St. Matthias' Parish Hall, with an attendance of over seventy members.

DONATION VOTED

The board voted a donation to the St. Stephen's Restoration Fund from the "Extra Cent" Fund. The vote made from the fund last month to the work of Rev. S. B. Holmes, of the Columbia Coast Mission, was gratefully acknowledged in a letter received from Mrs. Holmes by the treasurer, Mrs. Hartley.

JUNIORS ASSIST

The example set by a small branch of junior members at Lasqueti Island, showing the value of little things, was reported by the junior secretary, Mrs. Hunter, that, in addition to organizing a box social, they collected rags for rummage, which they made up and donated to Rev. S. B. Holmes for his mission boat, Fredna.

The deaconess secretary, Mrs. Christie, asked for gifts for the Christmas bales to be sent to her before the end of November this year.

The board voted that the November board meeting should be held in the evening in that business women and girls should have an opportunity of attending, the place to be announced later.

An luncheon is being arranged by Deaconess Simcox, who has been invited by several Up-Island branches, to give her report of the Dominion annual meeting. Her address is 1126 Richardson Street, Victoria.

GUILDS BUSY

The treasurer, Mrs. Hartley, reported several contributions to the memorial stained glass window in the W.A. bay of the new Cathedral. That the Church Embroidery Guild had not been idle, was evidenced by the report of the secretary, Mrs. Greenway, several beautiful pieces of work having been completed.

Miss Turner asked subscribers to the Quarterly Intercession Papers to send in their subscriptions before the end of the month.

The Little Helpers' secretary, Lady Lake, read an interesting letter from an Up-Island branch, which is doing splendid work among both boys and girls.

Both were directed to report for duty in the State prison shops. Leopold, Loebe has been employed as a messenger. Leopold has been secretary to the prison chaplain. His failure to properly deliver a summons to a prisoner the chaplain wished to interview was assigned as the reason for Leopold's transfer to the workshop.

Warren Henry C. Hill said Leopold had been transferred to the State's old prison, while Loebe had been sent to the new one at Stateville, near here.

"I do not believe they should be under the same roof," he said.

Martin Hutton, an invalid of Surbiton, England, was badly injured when his bathchair ran away and crashed into a bathhouse.

LEOPOLD AND LOEB BEGIN HARD WORK

JOLIET, Ill., Oct. 17.—Hard work—the first since their imprisonment six years ago—was the order of the day for Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, slayers of Bobby Franks, of Chicago.

Both were directed to report for duty in the State prison shops. Leopold, Loebe has been employed as a messenger. Leopold has been secretary to the prison chaplain. His failure to properly deliver a summons to a prisoner the chaplain wished to interview was assigned as the reason for Leopold's transfer to the workshop.

To Be Married in Hollywood Today

A wedding of interest to Victorians will take place in Hollywood today. The bride, Wanda Friesdorf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Friesdorf, of Seattle, will become the bride of Mr. W. Berkeley Monahan, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Monahan, of Esquimalt.

Bride and Groom Will Reside in Duncan

Emmanuel Baptist Church was the scene of a pretty wedding on Thursday evening, at 8 o'clock, when Rev. P. W. McKinnon performed the marriage service for Dorothy Vera, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Bassett, of 1421 Pembroke Street, and Mr. Horace Adrian Townsend, only son of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Townsend, of Duncan.

White and pale pink chrysanthemums and greenery were used in the decorations of the church, and the guest pews were lined with pink tulle.

Miss Scowcroft played the wedding march, and during the signing of the register Miss Gladys Marchant sang "All Joy Be Thine."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked radiant in her wedding gown of ivory georgette with a long, full skirt, which was edged with a deep hem of silver lace. The dress had insets of crepe de Chine out with silver thread applied in the skirt, centered with white roses. Her veil of embroidered tulle was attached to a cap of silver net with a bouquet of pink roses, and a strand of orange blossoms held it to the back of her neck. A shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, white carnations and maidenhair fern completed her attire.

Miss Gladys Marchant was an attractive bridesmaid in a sleeveless frock of shell pink moire with a long, tiered skirt, and a strand of orange blossoms held it to the back of her neck. A shower bouquet of Ophelia roses, white carnations and maidenhair fern completed her attire.

The best man was Mr. S. Rowley Thomas, of Alberni, and the ushers were Mr. Bert Marchant and Mr. G. Baker.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's parents, which had been arranged with a quantity of autumn blooms. The bride and groom stood beneath a floral arch of white and mauve chrysanthemums and brilliant colored foliage to receive their guests and were assisted by Mrs. Bassett in navy blue crepe de Chine with touches of beige and hat to match.

The wedding cake centered the supper table, which was arranged with silver vases of pink chrysanthemums.

After a honeymoon on the Mainland Mr. and Mrs. Townsend will make their home at Duncan. The bride left in a becoming gown of deep brown crepe de Chine with a yoke and cuffs of white and coral and a velvet toque and coat to match trimmed with mink fur.

Limited, of which the groom is executive manager and of which the bride has also been an employee, presented them with a case of table silver on the occasion of their marriage.

Recent Innovations In Smart Jewelry

New styles in jewelry appear almost weekly, accentuating the type and color harmony of the costume, says an article in The Christian Science Monitor. Genuine stones are exquisitely carved into flower shapes and are set together in necklaces, bracelets, brooches and clips. These are set in metal of various colors, employing rubies, emeralds and diamonds in cluster designs of brilliance and delicacy. In all-white jewelry round diamonds are set together.

Necklaces are fitted to the throat. One of the latest models from an important house is thus fitted, the stones being set closely with dazzling effect. The necklace widens in front and is a narrow strand at the back. Another necklace is fitted flat around the back and extended with three single strands of diamonds in front. A necklace of oblong and round stones, with a matching pendant, is Russian in influence but ultra modern in setting.

READ NECKLACES

Large and small stones and beads are popular in the new necklaces, and there is a tendency to use several strands of small synthetic jewels, or beads of colored composition. One necklace that will be fascinating with a white crepe or mousseline frock has three graduated strands of beads like ripe currants. Another, very new, is a long string of small green jade beads alternating with oblongs of silver. This may be left to hang to the knees or wound two or three times around the neck.

COSTUME JEWELRY

Antique silver chains of fine workmanship are effective with sports clothes. Blue beads with silver between and all-blue chains are charming. Black-and-white necklaces have a long chain of finely-cut, jet beads worn outside three strands of rhinestones. Lapis lazuli, emerald and turquoise matrix in beads the size of marbles are strung in chokers. Amethyst and topaz, genuine and synthetic, are set in flat short necklaces to wear with the fashionable shades of mauve, yellow and brown.

FASHIONABLE CLIPS

Clips are worn by many in place of brooches and pins of different sorts and sizes. Some smart, quaint clips of onyx and rhinestones look like old-fashioned lockets and are worn to hold up an all-black or black-and-white gown. Other designs are Egyptian in inspiration, modern in treatment, and built up of colored stones and sometimes of straws together, and at other times in a crystal.

The new bracelets of crystal, rhinestones and colored synthetic jewels are slender, and one or many may be worn.

Newsprint Institute Accepts Resignation Of Colonel J. H. Price

MONTREAL, Oct. 17.—At a meeting of the Newsprint Institute of Canada, held here today, W. H. O'Reilly, who has been associated with the institute since its inception, was appointed permanent secretary and chief executive officer, succeeding Percy B. Wilson, who died recently.

In publishing the news of this appointment, The Montreal Gazette, in its financial gossip tomorrow, will say:

"The Gazette further understands that the resignation of Colonel J. H. Price as chairman of the institute, which was proffered some weeks ago, was accepted, but that nothing was done with regard to naming a new chairman."

The Fur Flies

Jealous rage! It's very clear
That such you'll find may cost you dear.

—Old Mother Nature.

Impy the black Chipmunk was in a jealous rage. He was jealous of a big handsome stranger who had been paying attention to little Miss Frisky, the prettiest Chipmunk in all the Great World. Anyway, that is what Impy thought. Impy thought to make himself look very big and fine. "Go away from here!" he shouted.

"Go away yourself!" retorted the stranger.

"If you don't, you'll be sorry," barked Impy.

"Who'll make me sorry?" demanded the stranger.

"I will!" replied Impy fiercely.

"Come and do it!" retorted the stranger.

"Just come and do it!" said Impy, and ran a few steps toward the stranger. Then he stopped. That stranger looked bigger than he had thought. "He certainly is bigger than I am," muttered Impy to himself. "If he is bigger, he must be stronger."

"What's the matter? Are you afraid?" taunted the stranger.

"No!" declared Impy, and he tried to make his voice sound very brave.

"Do you think I would be afraid of anyone like you?"

The stranger chuckled and it was a most unpleasant sounding chuckle. "You are afraid," said he.

"I am not!" retorted Impy.

"You are afraid; and it is a good thing for you that you are," said the stranger.

"I tell you that I am not afraid!" cried Impy, trying very hard to make his voice sound as if he really meant it.

"Then why don't you come on and fight?" retorted the stranger.

Just then Impy saw little Miss Frisky peeping out at him from behind a big stone. He wanted to run away. But with Miss Frisky looking on, he couldn't do that. Right down inside he really was afraid of this big stranger. He would have given anything to be able to run away. But to run away with little Miss Frisky looking on wouldn't do at all. So, instead of running away, he ran forward. Yes, place, with Mrs. A. U. de Penepier in Mrs. Stead's office.

Miss A. B. Cooke was delegate to the National Chapter meeting in Montreal, and her report was read by Mrs. Sampson. A request will be sent to the National Chapter, asking that the name be changed from Canadian National Chapter to National Chapter of Canada.

An interesting talk on the peace-time programme of the Red Cross Society was given by J. G. Corry Wood, emphasizing the three aspects: Relief for returned men; outposts, hospitals, and Junior Red Cross. He mentioned the work at Escondido for returned men, and outlined in detail efforts at the Peace River country for hospital work. He presented a strong appeal from Miss Roberts, Grand Haven, B.C., for warm clothing for women and children, which is needed in that district.

In future, the chapter will vote every alternate year on the location of provincial headquarters.

DR. SCAFE TO CLOSE BIBLE EXPOSITIONS

Distinguished Scripture Teacher Will Preach at Central Baptist Church

The acceptability of the wonderful messages given by Dr. Charles R. Scafe during the past two weeks at the Central Baptist Church on Pandora Avenue, has been evidenced by the increasing numbers coming to the meetings. Dr. Scafe's exposition of outstanding Bible themes is delivered in a unique style which cannot fail to impress all who hear him. Rarely, if ever, has any Bible teacher visited Victoria who grips and holds the attention of his auditors as Dr. Scafe does.

Sunday will be Dr. Scafe's last day in the city for the present, when he will give three messages of vital interest to all. In the morning his subject will be "What Is Christianity?" In the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock there will be another city-wide rally, when Dr. Scafe will speak on the special, much-discussed subject, "The Truth About Armageddon," while in the evening he will give a message of vital interest to all. The second coming of the King is the necessity of "Five Years Among the Cannibals of Africa" is the title of a lecture to be given Friday evening by Alfred Bragg, who has been missionary in that country.

HIGHER EDUCATION TO BE CRITICIZED

Dr. Davies Deals With "What's Wrong With Education" at City Temple Tomorrow Evening

"What's Wrong With Education?" will be Dr. Clem Davies' Sunday evening theme at the Victoria City Temple—a critical study of education, especially in the higher branches. Every channel used to influence the thought of people will come within the message's range, the subject not being designed to capriciously criticize our own local educational institutions so much as to discover how more useful the systems of learning now in vogue can be and the tremendous importance of education leading the way out of the modern social and industrial confusion.

The evening anthem will be "While the Earth Remains" (Mauder), and a solo will be rendered by Mrs. Maud Trevel, entitled "There Is a Green Hill" (Gounod).

At the morning service the pulpit topic will be "Consider the Lilies." The choir will sing "Teach Me, O Lord" (Attwood).

Final announcement is made of the lecture to be given by the Temple pastor next Wednesday in the Royal Victoria Theatre, at 8 o'clock, "Modern Innocents Abroad." The Victoria Girls' Band will with Frank visited Victoria who grips and holds the attention of his auditors as Dr. Scafe does.

URGES MORE ETHICS TO CHECK GAMBLING

Presbyterian Synod Alarmed at Much Speculation—Elected Rev. T. A. Wilson Moderator

More teaching by the church of its ethical standards, in view of the large number who engage in purely speculative ventures and the increasing tendency to gambling practices, was urged by the committee on church life and work through Thomas Humphries of this city, at the annual meeting of the Synod of British Columbia, which was held in St. Andrew's Church, New Westminster, Tuesday, October 14, to Thursday evening.

The sermon by Dr. Alex Esler, retiring Moderator, was a masterly discourse on the power of the Gospel to transform life. The election of the new Moderator followed, the choice falling on Rev. Thos. Wilson, B.A., of Vancouver.

The report of the budget committee aroused considerable discussion, in which Rev. H. P. S. Luttrell and others from Victoria took part. A special effort will be made to have each congregation reach the amount of its allocation. With that object in view a thankoffering will be made on the Sunday before Thanksgiving Day.

Dr. R. G. MacBeth spoke for the board of missions, making special reference to the work of the Presbyterian Church in India, Formosa, Japan, Manchuria and British Guiana. Rev. J. M. MacGillivray, of Central Church, Vancouver, presented the report of Sabbath schools and young people's societies.

DR. H. E. FOSDICK Gives First Sermon in New Church

Rev. G. A. Reynold, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will occupy the pulpit at both services on Sunday. At the morning service he will speak on "The Modern Rush and Its Loss." "The Vision of the Open Eye" is the text for the evening service, and is taken from the 2nd Book of Kings, vi, 17. Mr. Harold Beckwith will sing Ambrose's "One Sweetly Solenn Thought." All the young people of the church are invited to attend a special meeting held every Monday evening at 8 o'clock, Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, the hour for prayer and praise.

MRS. K. C. ALLEN WINS OAK BAY GOLF HONORS

Fans Threaten to Boycott Arsenal-Manchester Match

Supporters of Latter Club Pleased at Poor Showing of Team—Huddersfield Town and Leicester City to Meet Today—Scottish Card Good

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Arsenal, who lost their lead in the English First Division soccer race last week, will have a chance to regain it on Saturday. They play Manchester United, who have not won a game this season. Aston Villa, out in front through their superior goal average, have a tough fight on their hands when they meet their fellow citizens, Birmingham. The match at Manchester is being watched with a great deal of interest by fans, as the United Supporters' Club has threatened to boycott it in case of a poor showing of the team so far. Probably the best game of the First Division will be seen when Huddersfield Town and Leicester City meet at Huddersfield. Both are playing about the same calibre of game this year. In the Second Division Everton should have little difficulty in keeping themselves at the head of their section. They must travel to Nottingham to meet the Forest, and should be equal to their task there. Preston North End, runners-up to Everton, are hosts to Plymouth, the huddling team from the South of England, promoted to the Second Division this year. Preston should win and their relation to Everton in the standing should not be changed much. A grim battle will be that between Burnley and Tottenham Hotspurs, bracketed in fourth place in the championship table. They meet at White Hart Lane. A number of good matches are expected for Scotland. Rangers will be hosts to Kilmarnock, and the match may prove an indication whether the Glasgow club, who have been beaten twice this season, are really slipping. Two other fine fixtures are Motherwell, the league leaders, at Airdrie, and St. Mirren at Celtic.

VARSITY GRID TEAM TO TAKE ON ALBERTANS

U.B.C. Representatives Will Meet Prairie Squad in Match Next Week

CALGARY TIGERS TO TACKLE EDMONTON

WINNIPEG, Oct. 17.—Big university squads from four provinces, fighting for intercollegiate Rugby recognition, have laid plans to continue the West's football programme Saturday. With an interprovincial conflict at Edmonton, between British Columbia and Alberta next week and a battle here between Saskatchewan and Manitoba student grid warriors will occupy the stage center.

Entry of University of British Columbia into the Prairie struggle has renewed interest in college circles. The West Coast team, considered one of the best in the Pacific Province, is slated to meet Saskatchewan the following week.

MANITOBA NEEDS WIN

Back to the wall, Manitoba Varsity's strong squad must win over the champion team from Saskatchewan to stay in the running. After losing a 3-0 decision to Saskatchewan a week ago, they are given better than an even chance of turning the trick.

Calgary Tigers can make a second Alberta title almost certain if they beat Edmonton Eskimos in Edmonton. Tigers have lost only once, but their win this season have been by decreased margins and Deacon White's Eskimos are rated a strong machine.

Regina Roughriders, already crowned champions in Saskatchewan, will meet Moose Jaw Maroons in a scheduled contest, and Manitoba's Utkus, St. John's, will hook up with Tigers to keep in shape for the play-downs.

HAMILTON TIGERS TO TACKLE ARGOS

Canadian Champions Will Stack Up Against Strong Toronto Team—Ottawa to Meet Montreal

TORONTO, Oct. 17.—Football teams throughout Eastern Canada rested today to be ready for the muscle-straining test on rain-soaked gridirons on Saturday.

Three of the teams will struggle through their important fixtures minus several stars. Hamilton Tigers will match punts and bucks with Toronto Argonauts in the Interprovincial Union feature tussle without their pair of star players, Ray Broadway and Effort, who are on the injured list.

Argos, on the other hand, will enter the Bengal lair at full strength and probably more confident than any team has been in recent years with a game against the yellow and black champions facing them.

SENATORS WEAKENED

Ottawa Senators' clash with Montreal Amateur Athletic Association, weakened through the loss of their best lineman, "Irish" Monahan, and Dave Harding, star halfback. The winged wheelers, at full strength, need victory badly to keep in the Big Four race.

Queen's University entrained for Montreal in splendid condition and confident of making a good showing against McGill University. Captain Curley, inside wing, and Walker, clever middle, are on the hospital list.

Two teams that will clash at full strength are University of Eastern Ontario and University of Toronto. Victory of the latter will keep them abreast of the champion tricolor twelve. Should McGill defeat their opponents, Varsity will be the likely victor of the intercollegiate Union standing.

EDDIE KANE DIES

POTOSKEY, Mich., Oct. 17.—Eddie Kane, former manager for Tommy Gibbons, Sammy Mandell and other noted boxers, died at 6:10 p.m. today at Potoskey Hospital.

J.B.A.A. Cage Teams to Hold Dance Tonight

With the advance sale of tickets pointing to a large attendance, the basketball dance this evening at the J.B.A.A., under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary at the club's headquarters at the Gorge, is expected to be one of the most successful since the carnival took over the new building. Dancing will begin at 9 o'clock to midnight, with a first-class orchestra in attendance.

The proceeds of the affair will go towards the girls' basketball team, and they hope to defray some of the expenses of the cage teams. Tickets may be had at the door or from members of the auxiliary or basketball squads.

BOB KRUSE TO OPPOSE STRACK HERE TONIGHT

Heavyweight Mat Men in Fine Shape for Battle at Tillicum Gymnasium

CANADIAN CHAMPION TO MEET ANDERSON

Mat fans are promised one of the best cards of the season at the Tillicum gymnasium tonight with four of the leading men in the game pitted against each other in a series of four events. Bob Kruse, of Portland, will grapple with Charlie Strack, Oklahoma, while in the semi-wind-up Desmond Anderson, Seattle, will try to conciliate with Paul Paulson, Calgary, Canadian champion. One preliminary, which will get under way at 8:45 o'clock, will open the show.

Strack, who made such a good showing against the highly rated Joe Malcewicz, is figured a slight favorite to defeat the tough Portlander. However, there are a number of strong Kruse followers who have visions of a win for their favorite.

The semi-wind-up between Desmond Anderson and Paulson promises to be a bang-up affair. Each of these have scored a win over "Sister Pete" Kruse's younger brother recently, and are now coming together for the first time.

The curtain-raiser will see Danny Pastore and the "Cordova Bay Flying Seal" in a return go. Last week the "Seal" defeated Pastore, and by so doing broke a lengthy winning streak for the local man.

As on previous occasions the fair sex will be admitted free if accompanied by a gentleman.

KRUSE SCORES WIN OVER JACQUE MANUEL

VANCOUVER, Oct. 17.—Bob Kruse, veteran Portland wrestler, won another victory here last night when he defeated Jacques Manuel, Portuguese grappler, two falls to one. The deciding fall came in the fourth round with a grapevine body slam at a time when the Portuguese appeared to have his opponent at his mercy following a series of headlocks. It was a savage bout while it lasted.

Wild Bill Donovan defeated Cowboy Ray of Texas, in the semi-final with a flying tackle that even outdid the great Sonnenberg himself.

In the opening bout, Paul Paulson, of Calgary, and Harry Olson, of Portland, battled to a draw.

Canadian Hockey Players to Be Admitted to United States

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17.—A decision to admit five Canadian hockey players, members of the Chicago Black Hawks, to this country under bond and for short periods, was announced today by the Labor Department. Although no appeals have been received from the players who were refused entry from Winnipeg, Secretary Davis took the question up with his advisers and discussed it as a matter of policy.

The players were classified on their passport applications as "skilled help," and as such were barred. The department decided to place them in the same category with foreign actors, pugilists and musicians, who generally are allowed to enter for stays of six months. Should appeals be received from the Canadians, it was indicated at the department, they would be favorably treated.

EXPLANATION FOR YESTERDAY'S RIPLEY CARTOON:

The Golden Weddings of the Three Guernsey Brothers—This triple golden wedding was celebrated with much public ceremony at Falmouth, France, on October 28, 1902. The complete story of it is contained in the foreword to Professor Zuboff's "Hereditary." This author is a famous authority on longevity.

Vic Hanson, of Syracuse, the present coach at Syracuse University, New York, has played on every football, baseball and basketball team during his days in public school, high school, Manlius Prep, and four years at Syracuse. He has captained every team in each field of sport during that time, and for two years was chosen by some critics for an all-American berth.

Sugar in the Fourteenth Century—In ancient times sugar was known only in India, from whence it spread to Persia and China. Until the age of discovery, the fourteenth century, very little sugar was produced, and it was used only as medicine. It was not until the increasing use of tea and coffee in the eighteenth century that it became one of the principal food staples. Reference: Encyclopedia Britannica.

FIFTEEN PLAYERS ARE MAKING TOUR

LONDON, Oct. 17.—Captained by the redoubtable A. P. F. Chapman, who was accompanied by his wife, the Marylebone Cricket Club's team sailed for South Africa this afternoon. They seek some consolation for the loss by England of the mythical "Ashes" in the Test match series with Australia this Summer.

"I think my team is one of the best that ever left England," Chapman said. "I don't know anything about the matter of wickets in South Africa, but if they are suitable we ought to win the rubber of the Test matches."

The team includes two former captains of English Test teams, Wyatt and White, but the great spirit of comradeship prevails and there is no question of differences among the players. Wyatt told a reporter, "I am proud to be playing under Chapman."

Scores 5 and 4 Win Over Mrs. W. Parry In Drenching Rain

Winner Succeeds Mrs. Philbrick as Women's Champion at Victoria Golf Club—Battle Through Steady Downpour—"B" Class Final Postponed

Mrs. K. C. Allen will rule the tees for the ensuing twelve months as a result of her 5 and 4 victory over Mrs. Walter Parry yesterday afternoon in the final of the women's club championship. The pair battled away hole after hole for the coveted honors in a terrific downpour, but despite this great disadvantage, the golf displayed by both was of a splendid calibre.

In ascending the throne, Mrs. Allen climaxed a week of fine golf, notwithstanding the weather man interfered with the tournament day after day. She was the pacemaker from the first day's play when she set out with the select field to capture the qualifying round honors. From then Mrs. Allen started moving operations which she finished yesterday in spectacular style by winning the title.

Mrs. Parry finished well up among the qualifiers and created a big surprise by eliminating Mrs. B. R. Philbrick, who was defending her crown, in the first round, 2 and 1, in the best match of the tourney. Mrs. Charles E. Wilson was Mrs. Parry's next victim via the 5 and 3 margin.

In winning the crown, Mrs. Allen relied upon her trusty driver and faithful putter, both of which remained true to her from the first tee to the fourteenth green, where the match ended. The first hole was halved in sixes, as was the second in fours.

MRS. ALLEN TAKES LEAD

Mrs. Allen jumped into the lead by caging a five on the third, one over women's par, to Mrs. Parry's six. Mrs. Parry, who swings from the port side, laced out a nice drive on the fourth and finally won the hole with a five to square the match.

With the rain coming down in torrents, Mrs. Allen uncorked some beautiful golf from the fifth hole to the turn. She captured the fifth with a five after her opponent had driven two balls out of bounds and finally picked up to concede the hole. Continuing her brilliant driving and work on the carpets, which were covered with miniature lakes, Mrs. Allen won the next three holes with 5, 3, 4, to Mrs. Parry's 6, 4, 5. The ninth was halved in fours. Mrs. Allen holed a long putt to gain her half.

FOUR UP AT TURN

Rounding the turn Mrs. Allen was holding a four-hole lead. With the final hole and gallery, a faithful one at that, drenched, the pair headed for home. The tenth, eleventh, twelfth and thirteenth were halved. Mrs. Allen wrote finish to the championship and match by winning the short fourteenth with a four to Mrs. Parry's five.

Mrs. B. R. Philbrick, women's captain of the club, refereed the match and in doing so saw her crown pass to the victor of the new titleholder. Following the final, Mrs. P. S. Lammman, wife of the club's president, distributed the prizes, with the exception of the "A" class, first prize championship and first flight. These awards will be presented this afternoon at the conclusion of the tourney.

TODAY'S MATCHES

This morning at 10 o'clock, Miss Fitz-Gibbon will meet Mrs. H. A. Ross for the "B" class championship, while fifteen minutes earlier Mrs. A. Watson and Mrs. Philbrick will battle it out for the first flight honors in "A" class. At 10:05 o'clock Miss D. Scott and Mrs. Seatt will meet in the final of the first flight in "B" class.

FINAL REACHED IN U.S. WOMEN'S GOLF

Glenna Collett Will Oppose Virginia Van Wie for Championship

Defending Champion Shows Great Form in Disposing of Youthful Helen Hicks, 5 and 3—Chicago Girl Defeats Medalist, 2 and 1

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 17.—Peerless match play golfer and coolest of them all when under fire, Glenna Collett, of New York City, today moved one step nearer her objective—a fifth women's national championship—with a smashing 5 and 3 victory over Helen Hicks, nineteen-year-old Inwood, N.Y., star, in the semi-finals of the 1930 tournament.

Defender of her title and favorite of the crowd, Miss Collett tomorrow will face Virginia Van Wie, Chicago miss in the 36-hole final. Miss Van Wie fought her way to the last bracket with a 2 and 1 victory over Mrs. O. S. Hill, of Kansas City, tournament medalist.

While a gallery of nearly 2,000 thrilled to her long tee shots and well executed approaches, Miss Collett strode over the rolling fairways to post 28, one under par, for the first nine. She finished in a swarm of birds that had her four under standard figures when the match ended on the fifteenth.

MISS HICKS OUTDRIVEN
Miss Hicks, most brilliant of the younger luminaries, and concededly the longest driver of the women's ranks, found herself in the unusual position of taking second to Miss Collett in shots from the tee today. Outdriven by many yards most of the time, the Inwood girl was continually pressing—she played more second shots out of the rough than is usually the case. She had a 42 for the first nine.

From the first hole to the last, Miss Collett was the superior. She won the first two holes with pars 4 and 5, respectively, and was never threatened. She won the third with a birdie 3, but lost the next hole to a par 4. The next three holes were halved in pars, and Miss Collett made it three up again with a birdie 5 on the eighth. Miss Hicks won the ninth with a par 3, to cut her rival's lead to two up at the turn, and her birdie 4 took the tenth, to make the count one up for the defending champion. After that it was Miss Collett's show. She won the eleventh with a birdie 3, captured the twelfth with a par 4, and after halving the next hole in par 5, won the fourteenth and fifteenth with birdies 5 and 2, to clinch the match. Her finish on the 14th match was a drive seven feet past the pin and she holed the putt. Miss Hicks meanwhile sending her shot into a trap, but recovering nicely for a six-foot putt and a par 3.

Neither Mrs. Hill nor Miss Van Wie exhibited remarkable golf today, but the latter was the steadier. Usually a fine short game player, Mrs. Hill was either weak or strong with her iron.

CLOSE MATCH
The match was close all the way, with Miss Van Wie holding a two-up lead at the turn. She made it three up at the tenth, and the next two holes were halved. Miss Van Wie made it four up with a par 5 on the thirteenth, but just when she seemed to have the situation well in hand, her opponent rallied to make things interesting again. Mrs. Hill won back the fourteenth with a birdie 5, and cut her opponent's lead to two when she took the fifteenth with a birdie 2. The next two holes were halved in birdie 4's and par 5's, respectively. Miss Van Wie coasting out with the scores.

Tomorrow's meeting will be the second of Miss Collett and Miss Van Wie in the national finals. Two years ago Miss Collett won the title with an overwhelming 13-12 victory over the Chicago miss.

GAMES POSTPONED

BAKER NAMED REFEREE FOR TONIGHT'S GO

Victoria Official Will Be Third Man in Ring at Jumbo Davies-Ainsworth Mix

THREE PRELIMINARY ENCOUNTERS CARDED

Roy Baker was selected from a list of six to referee tonight's ten-round bout at the Variety Theatre between Jumbo Davies, Victoria, and George Ainsworth, Vancouver. The Mainlander manager wanted an outsider as the third man in the ring, but no person suitable to both parties was available, and Baker, as given the assignment. The show will get started at 8:30 o'clock.

Considerable interest has been aroused, and a packed house is expected to be on hand when the curtain goes up. Tickets were selling rapidly yesterday and a good part of the reserved sections has been snapped up.

Betting switched in favor of Ainsworth yesterday. The Mainlander figures he can stop the local boy seven rounds or pound out a decision. Davies, on the other hand, is also confident of a victory, and will be out to stop the Vancouver fighter as quick as possible.

DIFFERENT STYLES

Both boys have different styles. Jumbo is a boring type of a fighter who plays mostly for the body, and will rely on this action again tonight. Ainsworth is a shifty and clever youth with a more upright style and a hard hitter with either hand.

The semi-final will bring together Wing Hay, the fighting Chinaman from Alberni, and Frankie Neal of Prince Rupert. These boys put up a great bout in the last card, with the latter getting the call in four first rounds. Hay will be out to reverse the decision tonight.

Ted Beales, Victoria, and Chick Hall, Portland, will appear in another four-round prelim. Both boys are willing mixers and have a hard and should put up a good battle. The other bout will be Batting Wong, local Chinese, opposing Billy Jones over four rounds.

CARIBOO'S FIRST OIL WELL

QUESTNEL—Thursday, October 2, was an eventful day in the history of old Cariboo, which has been making history since before the days of Confederation. A large and notable gathering took place at the Australian Ranch of Yorkston Bay on October 2, where a derrick had been erected during the past few weeks, and the word quickly passed around the district that at a certain time that afternoon Cariboo's first oil well would be spudded in. The syndicate responsible for the operations is headed by Frank A. Patrick, of Vancouver, no shares being placed on the open market.

TWO BIG FOUR RUGBY GAMES CARDED TODAY

Meralomas to Stack Up Against Vacs and Varsity Against Westminster

TEAMS WILL MEET ON MUDDY FIELDS

VANCOUVER, Oct. 17.—Gridsters shined up their mud cleats tonight and prepared for the very worst weather man can do tomorrow. Mud and rain loom as the main attraction for the boys on the Big Four Canadian Rugby squads. Meralomas, with two straight victories and first place in their possession, trot out on the battleground against the burly V.A.C. gridsters at Athletic Park, Cross Kingsway, Doc Walker, middleweight champion, knocked out Ginger Johnny Cline, of Los Angeles, in the second round of a ten-round bout here tonight. Walker's title was not at stake, the match being an overweight affair.

Mud, and more of it, just seems to be gathering over the hopes of the youngsters. Outweighed by the green-shirted squad, the black and gold lads will be at a distinct disadvantage against their bulkier opponents in the mud which they'll probably get tomorrow afternoon. Given a fast, dry field and the clubbers have an even chance with the Vacs, but with mud slowing up the speed boys in the backfield and putting a premium on weight the odds are all in favor of the green-shirted.

Varsity are liable to have a tough assignment on their hands in the Westminster crowd. The Wildcats have had a two-week layoff, which should give them time to recover from injuries. They have added "Coke" Shields to their backfield shield, and the long-booting redhead should give them a bit more punch.

DR. BURKE DIGGING UP NEW MATERIAL—To Make Trip to Prairie on Monday

VANCOUVER, Oct. 17.—For the first time in the history of Canadian Rugby in the West, a team from the Pacific Coast will cross the Rockies to play on the Prairies when the University of British Columbia grid squad, intercollegiate champions of Western Canada, travel to Edmonton and Saskatoon to defend its title against the Alberta and Saskatchewan colleges.

With but one practice remaining before the U.B.C. aggregation leaves Monday night, competition for the twenty-two places on the team is getting unusually keen. Dr. Gordon Burke, the varsity coach, is not taking any pains to hide his disappointment the exhibition that his proteges put up against the Meralomas a week ago, and it is possible that there will be some new men in the line-up when the blue and gold team from British Columbia journeys eastward.

Vancouver to Have Amateur Hockey League

VANCOUVER, Oct. 17.—Vancouver will have an Amateur Hockey League again this winter. Sure starters so far are the Vancouver Amateur Hockey Club and Ex-King George Juniors, while it is expected that B.C. Electric and Piremen will enter teams. It is also expected that a junior loop will be organized with Ex-George and Varsity already lined up.

West to Meet City In First Division Soccer Attraction

Strong Elvens to Clash at Royal Athletic Park Today—Referees Have Option of Postponing Fixtures if Grounds Are Not Suitable

President William Thompson, of the Victoria and District Football League, announced yesterday that the referees assigned to the various grounds would have the authority to postpone any of today's first division fixtures, if they come to the conclusion that the fields are not suitable for play.

Victoria City, the eleven which has been setting the pace since the season opened, will lock horns with Doc Poyntz and his Victoria West aggregation in the feature game at the Royal Athletic Park at 2:45 o'clock, with Referee Armstrong in charge. Spanish Thistles will battle the Jokers at the Victoria West Park at the same hour, while Esquimalt and Five C's will fight it out at Beacon Hill Park.

WESTS LOSE PEDEN

The green-shirts will take the field minus their stalwart centre half, Johnny Peden, who has gone into temporary retirement since receiving his month's suspension for fighting during the opening game of the season against the Jokers. Peden and his opponent in the flag display, McBay, appeared before the Lower Island Football Association

Thursday evening to receive their sentences. McBay will sit on the side lines for two months as a result.

Doc Poyntz will trot out his strongest squad with hopes of gaining his first victory, while the City will field the same youngsters who have appeared in previous games.

The Thistles-Jokers affair should provide plenty of first-class soccer for the fans, as both are evenly matched. Guarding the suburbanites' net will be the veteran Tommy Bridges, who is staging a comeback after a year's absence, while at the other end of the field, the Jokers' sticks, will be Gordie Chalmers, one of the mainstays of the Jokers.

At Beacon Hill, Esquimalt and Five C's will fight it out. The churchmen have both their matches by decisive margins, but today Esquimalt will be facing a different squad, as the C's have reorganized and have added strength in their ranks.

Victoria West will line up as follows: Willoughby, Lloyd, R. White, D. M. Batlle, J. D. Kinsinger, Dr. Smart, Harry J. Davis, T. Mutch and Nobel W. Pirrie.

The membership fee was increased from $25 to $40.

To win a fortune, Peter Greville, of Sidmouth, England, must agree to be a testator all his life. His great intention, which recently, provided in her will that he should receive $10,000 and one-fourth of her residuary estate "if he does not drink and intends to use the money to go into business or a profession." Otherwise he is to receive the income only. Her entire estate amounts to about $130,000.

Governor R. R. Bruce will be out of the city on that date. It was decided to ask Mayor Anson to drive the first ball and declare the new links open.

The meeting voted in favor of re-electing the present board of directors, which follows: Lieut.-Col. A. A. Sharland, president; Lieut.-Col. A. F. N. Slater, honorary secretary; Dr. D. M. Batlle, J. D. Kinsinger, Dr. Smart, Harry J. Davis, T. Mutch and Nobel W. Pirrie.

CHAPTER XVII

"She's spoiling the whole game. You got into this, but I'd like to know what sort of woman I had to deal with. I'd never have taken that case. If you have any influence with her, you'd better use it, and do it quick." Travis' annoyance was manifest under the habitual self-control of his manner.

"Have you tried Mr. Everett? He might talk to her," Peter suggested.

"He's no good," Travis dismissed Max with a quick incisive gesture. "I can't make him see that a case is won or lost by the way it's handled. He thinks that all anyone has to do is to listen to the facts and then go out and acquit the client." A smile wrinkled the corners of the lawyer's eyes with humorous desperation, but his mouth was stern.

If less had been at stake, Peter would have relished the conflict of personalities, which made the trial of Aline Everett a totally different thing to Max and to Travis. To Max it was a simple matter. It was only necessary to be honest, to tell the truth, and honesty and truth, clear and powerful as the shining of the sun, would dispel all insubstantial shadows.

But to Travis a trial was a work of art, and himself the artist. It was a game in which luck and skill both played their parts—but in which the ultimate victory lay with skill. It was no mere accident that made him one of the most formidable bridge players in the city. Peter smiled wryly as he remembered occasions of waiting while jurors stayed out for hours, and he himself, had experienced the unnecessary assurance with which Travis looked or rejected a witness, and forced his opponent into making a disastrous discard. The facts were dealt by a chance over which he had no control. It did not seem to matter to him whether the hand was a good one or poor one. So long as he played the hand, squeezing out the last possible trick, he was content with the personal sense of triumph, whether he won or lost.

But the cards in this case were human beings. Travis, planning his campaign to the last detail, had encountered opposition, not from the other players but from those who should have been passive bits of pasteboard, flung on the board at his direction.

"We've got a bad jury, but as good as could be expected in the circumstances," he said. Every time I used a peremptory challenge, I could see that the others resented it, as if I were casting suspensions on one of their own groups. We're rank outsiders to them, and the very thing that ought to count for us is working against us."

"Meaning Mrs. Everett?" Peter queried astutely.

"Meaning Mrs. Everett. A young and pretty woman ought to be the best sort of defendant. But she isn't. They don't understand her, and what they do understand they don't like. They're more sympathetic toward Max, but that sympathy for him is one of the very things that turn them against her. This woman is secretly jealous of her, and the men are vindictive. And she's doing her utmost to intensify the antagonism."

"You've talked to her?" Peter guessed. He had a strong suspicion that Travis had met Aline in full encounter, and had been forced to retreat, vanquished.

"I've explained to her with the utmost care what it's all about," Travis said with strained patience. "If she were a fool I could handle her—goodness knows I've handled enough of them. I told her she was running her head into the noose, and she looked me square in the eye and said, 'It's my own head.'"

Peter burst into unrestrained chortles.

"She's a game one!" he said admiringly.

"Nobody wants her to be a game one," Travis rebuked him. "She's got to be meek and crushed—the broken flower. I had a special dress sent from the city for her to wear—one that will put her more on their level. I hunted through the basements of ten department stores to find it. Plain, dark blue, and not too much style. She gave me one look at it." The lawyer paused impressively.

"What did she say?" Peter asked with eager curiosity.

"She said: 'That dress is a lie against myself. I won't wear it. And she didn't. I went over every off every bit of make-up, and to look dazed and stunned, like a lamb thrown among wolves.'"

Peter's eyebrow cocked upward at its most quizzical angle.

"I don't picture Aline Everett as a lamb," he murmured.

"It isn't that she's dumb," Travis expostulated. "She could put it over beautifully. She listened and said nothing after she had turned down the dress. I thought it was all right. And then she sat there like an advertisement out of 'Vanity Fair,' and flourished that cigarette holder at the jury the minute court adjourned. It was like a red rag to a bull, to them."

"It's foolish—but there's something rather heroic about it," Peter commented. "She's sticking by her guns."

The humorous wrinkles deepened faintly at the corners of Travis' tired eyes.

"Your metaphor is singularly apt and ill-chosen," he said. "By the way, do you believe her story as to why she shot him?"

"No," Peter said calmly. "I can't say I do."

"No more do I. I told her I didn't care personally why she did it, but she owed it to her counsel to take me into her confidence. She won't let me plead temporary insanity or self defence, and that leaves us with just one leg to stand on. I can't get another thing out of her."

"Why don't you believe her story?" Peter asked curiously.

"Because she was obviously relieved when we couldn't substantiate it," Travis answered dryly. "I don't think she's going to testify for us as a surprise witness. It would be the best play possible. She couldn't very well refuse to let me look at the missing Marjorie, but I'm sure she was worried about what Marjorie might say if we found her. They were hardly more than acquaintances, you know, and I don't think she has any confidence that Marjorie could stick up for her."

"You didn't find her?" The words were half question, half exclamation.

"No—that's one trick lost. If I could have got hold of her, I'd have made her testify the way I wanted her to, or know the reason why." For a bare instant something ruthless gleamed from Travis' deep-set eyes. "But she skipped out. On the day of the shooting she took the train to the city. She must have seen the story of Morrison's death in the paper the next day. I can't figure whether she decided it was best to get out of trouble, or whether she thought she'd only make things worse for her sister by going back. It doesn't matter, because she took the next train for New York, and now she's sailed for Europe. Once she was out of the state, we couldn't subpoena her, anyway. But she evidently wanted to go as far from the scene as possible. Well, we'll just have to get along without her."

With a brief sigh, Travis relinquished the possibilities that might have lain in an adroit manipulation of Marjorie, and eliminated her from his design.

"At any rate, there weren't any eye-witnesses to what happened," Peter said. "If there's nobody to back Mrs. Everett's story up, there's nobody to tear it down either."

"If she can stand up under cross-examination—"

"She will," Peter asserted. "Her story has the merit of simplicity, and she won't move an inch outside it. That's where she shows her sense."

"The cards are all against us," Peter said. "The words were simple, but oddly enough the tone in which they were spoken betrayed a subtle enthusiasm behind Travis' apparent discouragement. The situation was difficult, but the best of it lay in its very difficulty.

"The jury's against us from the start. Regardless of everything else, Linforth is a man they all know, and they'll naturally cheer the home team. I know that my client isn't telling the truth, and I don't know myself what the truth is—always a mighty delicate situation for a lawyer to be in. I've a strong suspicion that Linforth, who knows everybody in the county by his first name, will come closer to accounting for what actually happened, as far as it goes, than I shall."

"You think he knows—?" Peter looked up with startled anxiety.

Travis permitted himself the faintest possible smile of triumph.

"So you know yourself what really happened! I thought you might," he said.

"Yes, I know. But I'm not printing it," Peter said steadily. "Even if Aline Everett isn't telling the truth it can't be proved—and it doesn't affect the issue."

"It'll affect the jury all right," Travis retorted with grim cynicism. "The judge can instruct them till the cows come home that the question of motive must not be allowed to enter into their judgment of the facts, and that's all the good it does. Our best hope is to make them at least doubtful. They'll want to believe Linforth, but if Mrs. Everett sticks to her story they'll be divided in their own minds, and may cancel out. At any rate, I don't dare keep her off the stand, even if I'm afraid of what she might say if she suddenly broke down. If she didn't appear in her own defence, they'd think we were afraid to put her there."

"Which is darned near the truth," Peter grinned wryly.

"Precisely," Travis admitted. "The prosecution has every advantage—except one. Thanks to you, there's just one little thing they don't know and won't be allowed to guess until we spring it on them. They don't know—they can't know—that Aline Everett did not kill Morrison. But we're in possession of the last trump—because we know that it was physically impossible for her to do it!"

ROAD BUILT IN DAY

By building twenty-five miles of road in one day, Mexicans living near Tremendo are believed to have broken the world's highway construction record. The stretch was a section of a highway which will link the Mexican cities of Guadalajara and Mexico City. When news of the intended project reached Tremendo, messengers carried the word throughout the district. In answer to their call, 2,000 rancheros and native Tarascan Indians dropped their own work and hastened to the site of the proposed road. Starting at dawn, they completed it by sundown.

R. F. BLANDY REPORTS ON RECENT GATHERING OF MUNICIPALITIES

Reporting at last night's meeting of the municipal council upon the recent convention of the Union of British Columbia Municipalities, R. F. Blandy, municipal clerk, stated that resolutions from Oak Bay regarding boulevard, motor vehicles and animals had been approved by the convention.

The resolution regarding stop signs had been referred to the union's executive, that regarding road taxation would be taken up with the union's solicitor, with a view to securing an amendment, and that regarding the size of lots had been referred back for further information.

By majority of votes the convention had declined to favor any change in tax penalties, and had approved the principle of merging all elected bodies in each municipality by local referendum.

The principle of relieving land from school taxation had been approved and the general question referred to the executive. Mr. Blandy had been reappointed to the executive of the union.

VACATIONS ON DOLE

To accommodate those on the dole, who wished to continue the Government aid, a fleet of special buses ran from the seashore to Blackburn, England, recently. They carried vacationists who had to sign up at the employment exchanges to keep the dole. The young men and women afterwards returned to complete their vacations.

FIGHT WITH LIONS
ONE OF MANY THRILLS

Wild Animal Hunt Film at Coliseum
Makes an Amazing Picture

Mr. Felix Leo—otherwise Lion—is an interesting resident of Africa and his habits, while not to be commended, are at least fascinating. Regarded by some people as a coward, a bombast and a bluffer, the majority of hunters are willing to concede that he is a brave beast and deserving of his age-old title, "king of the jungle."

In the new wild animal hunt film, "Ingagi" (meaning gorilla) which comes to the Coliseum Theatre today, a fight with lions is portrayed among other innumerable thrills.

The lion kills other animals for food and does his hunting like all the big cats, in the dusk. He likes zebras, in East Africa, but won't turn up his nose at any of the other game animals.

AMUSEMENTS

On the Screen
Capital—Jack Oakie in "Let's Go Native."
Coliseum—"The Floradora Girl," starring Marion Davies.
Columbia—Monte Blue in "Tiger Rose."
Dominion—"Old English," starring George Arliss.
Playhouse—Colin Clive in "Journey's End."
Crystal Garden—Swimming and Dancing.

"Ingagi" is the famous adventure film everyone is discussing. No one can afford to miss seeing this amazing picture which ends with the portrayal of a weird tribal legend of the Congo.

DOMINION The Arliss monodie THEATRE has become a tradition of stage and screen. Even though the celebrated actor discards it momentarily for a part in a play or a picture, it is still a part of the Arliss personality. In "Old English," his latest Vitaphone screen production for Warner Brothers, now at the Dominion Theatre, Mr. Arliss wears spectacles in place of the monocle.

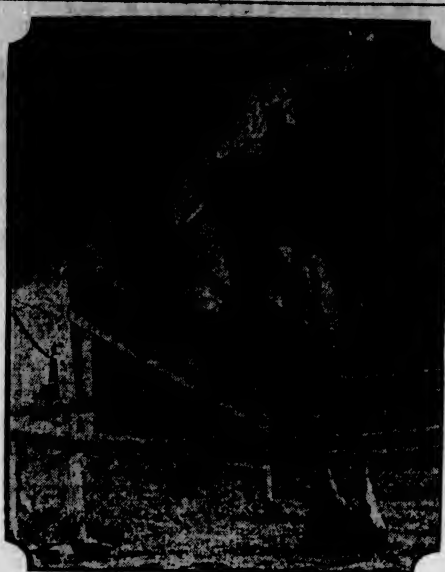

CAPITOL "Let's Go Native," starring Jack Oakie, the mad and merry melange of fun, frivolity and music which is showing at the Capitol Theatre for the last times today, presents what is believed to be the most imposing aggregation of Hollywood's younger comedy and music celebrities since "Paramount on Parade."

COLISEUM "More beautiful than the original!" So said Sidney Jarvis, veteran actor and singer, as he surveyed the 1930 Floradora sextette in "The Floradora Girl," which is now playing at the Coliseum Theatre. Jarvis, a member of the male portion of the original sextette, plays a comedy role in the new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature, in which Marion Davies is starred.

COLUMBIA A one-man dog is an established institution, but Tin-Tin has just varied his versatility by becoming a one-woman dog. The dog star appears in "Tiger Rose," the Warner Brothers' screen version of the Willard Mack drama of the Hudson Bay country, which is showing at the Columbia for the last times today.

PLAYHOUSE Billy Bevan in private life is a gentleman farmer and in the theatre a delightful character in "Journey's End," he finds a bright spring morning in the trenches a reminder of his garden at home. His "olly-ocks—eight feet tall they were one year. Took a photo of them—would you like to see it?" he asks Lieutenant Osborne as he digs the snapshot out of his pocket. This is just one of the many dramatic

MARRIED MEN TO GET PREFERENCE IN WORK

Those With Families to Be Given First Consideration in Relief Programme

Married men with families will be given first preference in any work undertaken by the city of Victoria under the Federal Government aid plan for the relief of unemployment, it was announced yesterday, following a conference of the Mayor, city engineer and members of the public works committee of the City Council, which has been created the unemployment committee of council.

This principle will be rigidly adhered to, it was stated by Mayor Anson. "Married men with families dependent upon them for subsistence must be given first consideration in the second preference group will be married men without families, and last will be the single men, and we hope to be able to take care of all classes. Men will be absorbed as rapidly as the work progresses," the Mayor stated.

FOUR KILLED WHEN MANY STORM MANOR

Police Fire Into Mob of Agricultural Workers in Rumanian Village of Balmacia

VIENNA, Oct. 17.—Four peasants in the Rumanian village of Balmacia were killed yesterday by police, who were forced to fire into a mob, it is reported today from Bucharest.

Hungary agricultural workers stormed the manor house of a landowner named Dumitra, a king for work or food. The house was sacked by the leaders of the mob, who declared they were going to divide the land for their own use. The gendarmes who came tried to disperse the crowd, and shot four persons to death and wounded many others. Some fears are expressed that the incident may precipitate a general peasants' revolt. Despite a good harvest, Rumanian farmers are desperately hard hit by the economic crisis and many thousands are said to be literally starving.

Forty-three people were killed and 200 injured in French road accidents during a recent week-end.

OTTAWA VOTERS
MAY HEAR PLAN

Council Considers Plan for City to Become Federal District

RULE BY COMMISSION

OTTAWA, Oct. 17.—The electors of Ottawa may be asked at the coming municipal elections to vote on a proposal for the creation of a Federal district, with the city as the centre. Mayor Frank Plant has intimated that he would bring a suggestion along this line up at an early meeting of the Board of Control. The electors would vote on whether or not the Dominion should be asked to create such a district.

For years the project of a Federal district has been discussed. It has been suggested that a district be created along the line of the District of Columbia, in which Washington is located, managed by a Government Commission. One objection to the Washington model was that it disfranchised the residents.

Ottawa now sends two members to the House of Commons and three to the Provincial Legislature. The suggestion made previously was that the two Ottawa seats in the Commons be made the statutory seats of the Prime Minister and the Leader of the Opposition, thereby giving the party leaders freedom to devote their entire time to a general election and be forced to fight for their own re-election, not always successfully.

Mayor Plant declared that any proposal he would submit would not take the votes away from the citizens of the capital.

ARMED BANDITS ARE SOUGHT ON MAINLAND

Three Holdups Staged in Vancouver and Burnaby—Robbery of $500 Is Reported

VANCOUVER, Oct. 17.—Armed bandits staged three holdups in different parts of the city and Burnaby Thursday night, invading the homes of two citizens and robbing a B.C. Electric motor-conductor of a sum of money while he was changing the trolley of the tram at the line's terminus.

Attacked by two gunmen at the corner of Hastings Street and Elmmer Avenue, Burnaby, Adam Taylor, B.C.E.R. conductor, was robbed of $45 shortly after midnight, he reported to Burnaby police.

Returning to their home at 9:30 p.m., Mr. and Mrs. H. Kent, Twenty-First Avenue West, were surprised by an armed bandit who had entered the house during their absence. Approximately $25 was reported missing, and they were forced, at the point of a gun, to surrender their automobile, in which the bandit made his escape.

Edward Mitchell, Dunlevy Avenue, was robbed of $500 by a lone thug who invaded his house shortly before 5 o'clock Thursday afternoon, he reported to the city police.

Ilford, England, has prohibited the carrying of radio accumulators and batteries in the new municipal street cars.

ONE GOOD RESULT FROM THE FLU EPIDEMIC

During the flu epidemic of 1918 happened to be senior medical officer of a hospital through which passed over 2,000 influenza cases. It is my fervent hope that the world will never see another such epidemic.

Despite the fact that twelve years have passed we cannot definitely state that the exact cause in all cases has been found. The original flu organism is still blamed, but there appear to be other organisms, and other factors, entering into the cause of influenza.

As names and doctors fought the epidemic it was found that the cases that went on to a bronchopneumonia, and so involved the lungs, were the ones that were really dangerous, and many died. And they died always because the heart gave out, not because of the bronchopneumonia that was present.

And so heart stimulants were used more than at any other time in the world's history. Sometimes one drug seemed to help, and at other times it was found necessary to use some other drug. Often also bleeding was resorted to, to take the work of the heart off.

Then the oxygen was tried as a last resort. Despite anything and everything many of these young fellows died. Now why am I bringing all this up again?

For just one reason. It was generally reported that it was only the big strong young men who died because the flu seemed to attack them more severely. This was not the reason. The reason so many of these strong young men died was because they remained on their feet for one, two, or sometimes three days before they took to bed. You can readily see what happened. Despite the fact that the flu was working in their system sending heart beats up to 110-120-140 and so on, as the heart did its best to keep going strongly, these men remained on their feet, on duty, thus taxing the heart almost beyond its limit.

By the end of two or three days, tremendous damage had been done, and when they finally reported sick and came to hospital their hearts were beyond help.

And that is the big lesson the flu epidemic taught us, not only about flu, but about other illness. That is why it is not brave, not good sense, to remain on your feet when you are ill, however slight, attacks you. By getting off your feet your heart has a chance by using its "reserve" to pull you through.

That was perhaps the only good thing the flu epidemic did for us.

OTTAWA, Oct. 17.—Austin Cassidy, ex-convict and gunman of Ottawa, sought in connection with the slaying of William ("Bert") Marshall in the neighboring city of Hull Wednesday night, was arrested at Amrpor this afternoon.

CORONER CRITICIZES SONS

Criticism of two sons who failed to help their mother, when she was in a burning house, was voiced by the coroner of Camberwell, England, after he had rendered a verdict of accidental death. The sons said that they had seen their mother at a window. One said that he was half-demented at the time, but advised her to get out. Obeying his instructions, she slipped and fell through a conservatory roof and was fatally injured. The other son told the coroner that he thought it was up to him to get out of the house first.

Beer Brewing

Is an Important Industry

Facts . .

About the Brewing Industry of British Columbia
150,000 Pounds of Hops
$750,000 Annual Payroll
8,000,000 Pounds of Malt Used Annually
$100,000 Annual Fuel Bill
Additional Thousands of Dollars for Bottles, Wrappers, Labels, Cooperage $400,000 Expenditure in Last Three Years in Modernizing Plants.
Barley Malt is made from Canadian-grown barley and hops are grown in British Columbia.
Thousands of dollars in taxes paid annually to Dominion and Provincial Governments, also to cities of Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster.

THE breweries listed below represent one of British Columbia's great commercial assets—an industry that is responsible for a large purchasing power through its employees alone, not taking into consideration the fact that this industry specifies British Columbia products whenever possible and Canadian made when products required are not procurable in British Columbia. These breweries pay union wages, thus helping to maintain the highest possible standard of living among employees. Equally important, however, is the fact that B.C. hops, famous for their excellent quality, and barley malt made from Canadian-grown barley are used exclusively.

The locations of these breweries are ideal in that they have access to clear, cold, mountain water, an important requisite in the making of good beer. Further, they are equipped with enormous storage facilities so that the beers and ales made have ample time to become fully aged. Each of the breweries is in charge of an experienced and proficient brewmaster at whose disposal is the most up-to-date mechanical equipment and skilled labor.

In view of these facts, it is a comparatively easy matter to see in the brewing industry of British Columbia an important contribution to this province's progress and general prosperity. It is important that you insist on B.C. Beers and Ales, for by so doing, you directly contribute to the welfare of British Columbia industry.

Heavy Liquidation Sends New York Stocks Downward To Lowest Level of Year

NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—Large wedges of selling orders driven into a shaky stock market split 2 to 4 points from quotations on active shares and broke the general price level to the lowest of the year.

After drifting quietly through the forenoon and early afternoon, the market was hit heavily by liquidation in the last hour, when a million shares changed hands, bringing the total turnover to 2,950,000 shares.

Closing prices were the lowest, and scores of issues, including General Electric, General Motors, New York Central, Rockwell, American Water Works, International Harvester and Westinghouse Electric, went to new minimums.

Throughout the five hours the tone was decidedly bearish and rallying tendencies were negligible.

Weakness in stocks was distributed without parallel, although the utilities showed the largest average break, just over 8 points in 23 stocks. The composite for the general market slumped 5.7 to 136.3, against the previous 1930 level of 140.

Allied Chemicals' loss of 16.34 was the most spectacular, but more prominent shares lost 6, among them American, R. H. Macy, Eastman Kodak, Potomac, Ingersoll-Rand, Colorado Fuel, Westinghouse and American Waterworks.

Divergent trends marked the close of bonds today.

Foreign bonds, particularly Latin-American, shot upward under the influence of a strong demand that has shown no diminution throughout the week.

It was a different story with domestic bonds. United States Government bonds were firm, making further progress toward duplicating their high of the year, but among corporation issues the preponderance of changes was on the downside.

SITE IS CHOSEN FOR ST. PAUL'S CHURCH

Meeting of Parishioners in Nanaimo Comes to Decision by Majority of Two to One

NANAIMO, Oct. 17.—In the Canadian Legion Hall last evening a large attendance of St. Paul's parishioners turned out, the object being the selection of a site for the building of a new church to replace that which was recently destroyed by fire. The Bishop of the diocese and Archdeacon Laycock were present at the meeting. Rev. Canon N. V. Hiltchcock presided.

The Bishop, in addressing the meeting, stated that he did not wish to influence it in any way, and asked those present to discuss the matter dispassionately. He complimented the parishioners in not being in too great a hurry, as matters of this kind needed thought and consideration. He suggested that the meeting decide first whether to move or stay on the old site. This suggestion was acted upon, and Mr. Rummung moved, seconded by Mr. Gould, that they move from the old site. A lengthy discussion took place, many of those present taking part, and it was finally decided to take a ballot.

When the result was known, the chairman announced that there was a two to one majority in favor of building on the old site. Mr. Lee, People's Warden, moved, and Mr. Kirkham seconded, that it be made unanimous, which was carried, this being followed by the singing of the doxology.

It was then moved that the building committee formulate plans to be presented to a meeting of the parishioners at the call of the rector.

Harvest Festival Celebration Held By Duncan Parish

DUNCAN, Oct. 17.—Harvest Festival services at St. John's Church this year were attended by large congregations. On Sunday morning the vicar, Rev. A. Black, was assisted at the communion services by the Rev. F. G. Christmas. Those who came to attend the evening service were more than the church could hold. The preacher was the Rev. E. C. Mortimer, Victoria. The offering for the day was $102.00. Members of the Women's Auxiliary were responsible for the beautiful decorations in the church.

On Tuesday evening the fifth annual harvest supper was held at the Rex Hall, when 275 persons sat down to supper, arrangements for which were in charge of Mrs. C. Warwick and Mrs. J. Fletcher. Men of the church committee, assisted by five boys of the church, waited on the tables. Supper was followed by a jolly dance, music being supplied by Garfield Weeks' orchestra. Card games were arranged for non-dancers.

KENNEDY FREED BY ASSIZE COURT JURY

Vancouver Cafe Proprietor Acquitted on Charge of Corruptly Offering Money to G. D. Ireland

VANCOUVER, Oct. 17.—F. F. Kennedy, proprietor of the Wonder Lunch, was acquitted by an Assize Court Jury this afternoon, after a brief deliberation, on a charge of corruptly offering money to George D. Ireland, former relief officer, in an attempt to secure business from the city relief department.

Kennedy's acquittal followed a brief hearing in which G. D. Ireland and Clifton Maxwell, former city officials, testified as witnesses for the Crown, and in which Ireland's declaration that he was innocent of the charge on which he is serving a two years' sentence was the outstanding feature.

Ireland declared the money he had received from Kennedy had absolutely no connection with city relief business, and denied he had ever given any favors to accused by reason of these gifts.

Kennedy, on the stand in his own defence, told of aiding Ireland financially on several occasions, but denied he had done so with a view to attempting to secure a larger share of the relief business. He said Ireland was a personal friend, and the money he had given to the former relief officer was entirely a personal transaction.

VICTORIAN REVIVAL GROWS
Sneers at the "dead, dead" Victorian era, whose stiff respectability was much exaggerated when highly sophisticated intelligentsia made that period their target, are no longer fashionable in England. The Victorian renaissance goes on apace. The fashionable dressmakers are copying the Victorian modes and everyone is crazy about Victorian furniture. Even literature, which was loudest in scoffing, is showing signs of Victorian influence.

An unknown pilot flew his airplane under the Bristol, England, suspension bridge, which is only 240 feet above the river.

COMMODORE W. HOSE MEETS EX-NAVAL MEN

Comments Naval Veterans' Branch on Splendid Organization—Comments on Growth of Navy

Commodore Walter Hose, R.C.N., Director Canadian Naval Service, accompanied by Commander L. Murray, S.N.O. Esquimalt, paid a visit to the clubrooms of the Naval Veterans' Branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., yesterday afternoon. He was met at the club by about fifty ex-naval men, who gave him a hearty welcome.

After being shown through the quarters Commodore Hose gave a short address, in which he spoke of the growth of the Canadian Navy. In making reference to the two new cruisers built for Canada, the commodore said they were second to none.

He commended the Naval Veterans' on building up such a fine organization and stated that not only were they a help to ex-members of the senior service, but also to those doing active service.

Among the prominent ex-naval men who greeted Commodore Hose were Captain Thorpe-Douglas, Commander C. H. S. Slingsby and Captain Johnston. Mr. George Phillips, superintendent of the naval dockyard, Esquimalt, was also in attendance.

FOUR CONVICTED BY JURY IN VANCOUVER

Prisoners Charged With Attempting to Hold Up Bank Found Guilty at Assize

VANCOUVER, Oct. 17.—After three hours' deliberation, an Assize Court jury this afternoon returned a verdict of "guilty" against James Wallace McKenzie, twenty-nine; Charles Keating, twenty-eight; William Sigmund, twenty-eight, and Harry A. Erickson, twenty-five, who were charged with attempting to hold up the Canadian Bank of Commerce at 2901 West Broadway, on April 11.

The jury retired at 11:30 a.m., after Chief Justice Morrison had instructed them for nearly an hour on the law and the evidence. The jury, composed of eleven men and one woman, returned at 2:30 p.m. Sentence will be passed at the close of the assize sitting.

To permit amateur photographers to see the results of their first pictures before exposing the entire roll, A. Krumm, an inventor of Germany, has patented a roll that may be detached in sections. It is really a series of separate films fastened together by pasters. After taking a picture, the section of exposed film may be torn from its pasters without damage to the remainder of the roll.

The introductory bid of a suit, even though it be of but four cards, has proven so successful where a worthless doubton or a singleton is held that we may become too prone to make such bid even where the absence of such marked weakness should dictate preferably an original bid of one No Trump.
In the above deal South, the Dealer, has the choice between an opening bid of one No Trump and One Club. It is true that there is very little strength in either the Spade or the Heart suit, yet the distribution as between suits, namely: 4-4-3-2, is so typically No Trump that there should be no hesitancy in bidding it. Particularly is this true in view of the fact that the Club bid would not be particularly strong, and that much reliance has to be placed on the development of the side Diamond suit headed by the Q-J.
SALIENT POINTS OF THE BIDDING
Context: South, the Dealer, opens the bidding with one No Trump, and West passes. North, with two Aces and also a typical No Trump distribution, should bid two No Trump in spite of the fact that he does hold a worthless doubton in the Club suit. The hand is not strong enough to make a take-out with two Hearts. East passes and South bids three No Trump, concluding the bidding.
Auction: South obtains the declaration with his original bid of one No Trump.

How It Started
By Jean Newton

"HOT TAMALE" "How," inquires a reader, "where and why did the term 'hot tamale' come into our language in reference to a person of passionate temper?" It is probably that those of us who have eaten the "hot tamale" might have no difficulty in suspecting the information requested. The hot tamale is a favorite Mexican dish. The tamale is composed of finely ground corn, seasoned plentifully with meat and red pepper. This dough-like mass is then wrapped in a coat of oiled corn husk, being served and eaten hot. Tamale is a Spanish word. Throughout Texas and Mexico the hot tamale is sold by street vendors and eaten with relish. It is because the "heat" of the tamale is due both to its temperature and the ingredients that the expression "hot tamale" is logically applied to a person of quick temper. It was first so used in the southwestern part of the United States, from which it spread to the rest of the country.
